

Description:  PASCOES
THE JEWELLERS
9ct Diamond Weight K-L colour L1-L1 clarity
Cluster Stud

Is wearing diamonds good luck?
Diamonds are considered to have heavenly powers, and are ideally suited for those who seek love, luxury, and all the lovely things in life, as Venus is the ruling planet of diamonds. Wearing a diamond may offer you good luck and wealth, as well as boost your confidence.
It's no question that diamonds bring out the best in someone. They make you feel special and beautiful, all while holding significance in your life. Above all other gems, diamonds are the ones that are the most Fortnering. Their hard exterior is symbolic of an unbreakable bond.

Diamonds are all about big vibrations and this is what earns the gem the name 'the stone of attunement'. Not only do these high vibrations work to clear out blockages, guide you in the right direction, and help you find a home in your body, but they also raise your spiritual awareness. From nurturing visions to tapping into clairvoyant capabilities, here are all the benefits of bringing the healing energy of the crystal Diamond into your life.

Physical
Like all healing crystals and gems, the Diamond will get to work on your body, mind and soul. When it comes to physical health, the high frequency of this stone can help sort cellular disorders and imbalances in the body. This diamond amplifies and speeds up healing, helping the body to eliminate toxins, and encouraging healing circulation. From migraines to motion sickness, the diamond helps you to get back on track.

Overall, a diamond is believed to be bring great calm and inner peace, bringing forth an overall positive mental attitude. Diamonds also have the power to stop stress, emotional pain, fear, and protect the owner from negative energies. The stones have also been believed throughout history, to protect the wearer against thieves, fire, water, poison, illness and sorcery. Interestingly, it is believed that the powers of a diamond increase when worn around the neck, or on the left hand. Diamonds are thought to help many physical ailments as well, as they purify the body's system. Ancient Hindus believed that the vibrations of a diamond strengthened every organ of the body, the heart, and in particular, the brain.
These amazing ascension stones brim with emotional healing energy. Being a gem committed to ideas of balance, spiritual leaping, and self-actualization, the gift of Diamond helps to clear the body and the mind of any repressed fears, toxic thoughts, and negative feelings. It invites you to find your sense of serenity and to sink into that so that in your relaxed state you can learn to let go and to draw in the energy you need. As a stone of clear clarity, it also helps you to see clearly and to better understand your motives and direction.

7C. Effect of wearing diamond earrings
Upon wearing diamond earrings, the Tama component in it spreads in their Sun and Moon channel of the Kundalini system.

Properties of Diamond:

- Color: Various
- Chakra: Crown
- Number: Vibrates to 33
- Planet: Sun
- Zodiac: Aries, Dog
- Bagua areas: Health and Wealth areas
- Elements: Metal
- Origin: Africa, Australia, Brazil, India, Russia, USA

Elements: Air, Fire, Ether/Spirit
Companion Flowers: White Chrysanthemum
Companion Essential Oil: Helichrysum
Companion Stone: Shungite

But even if it's not your own diamond, there's something spiritual to receiving one. There's a reason for the expressing "diamonds are a girl's best friend," after all!

Known as the gemstone of high vibrational light, the precious Diamond is a variety of Amethyst and Clear Quartz. This powerful stone combines the serenity and crown chakra connection of Amethyst with the huge amplifying powers of Clear Quartz. With six sides and double termination, this gem can transmit powerful energy. The meaning of connecting to a Diamond is to help with higher attunement, astral connections, and to get you in a place where you feel crystal clear about things.

Diamonds have many positive mystical attributes and healing properties. The diamond is associated with activating the seventh chakra, Sahasrara, uniting the mind with the body. While a diamond is regarded as the strongest precious stone, it is also regarded as a stone of exceptional power as it's able to reach into us and open many spiritual doors. This is perhaps why diamonds represent truth. They also symbolize perfection because of their indestructibility. The spiritual world is where the crystal Diamond truly shines. This glorious amplifier gem connects to the crown chakra, the third eye, and the heart chakra but can be used with all chakras too. It helps to remove blockages, clears out stagnant negative energy, assists with astral traveling and helps to connect you to your spirit guides. It also taps into clairaudient abilities inviting you to lean into past life information and glimpse the pathways that will be set before you. This ethereal stone is connected to the divine and when used in a grid with a larger diamond it is believed that this can create dimensional doorways.

Biel Isla-JaE

Diamonds have been used to cleanse our energies and help us shine and sparkle (literally!) for millennia, derived from the Greek names 'Adamas' meaning 'unbreakable' or 'untamable,' and 'Diaphanus' meaning transparent. Diamonds have been used to help us shine and sparkle (literally!) for millennia, making them a vital part of our emotional and physical wellbeing.

Spiritual Remedy

Diamond crystals are the perfect antidote if you're feeling lost or confused; they help clear your aura of sad thoughts and restore love and light.

diamonds also have more profound spiritual importance due to their rarity, purity, and brilliance. Diamonds, which have been used to help open the mind to the new and possible for billions of years and are composed of pure carbon – the foundation of all life in the world around us – have also been used to help open the mind to the new and possible for centuries.

The belief that a diamond's illumination and reflection will stimulate imagination and invention in its wearer, strength, fortitude, and courage is based on the hardness and 'invincibility' of a diamond, which has the potential to drive away negative energy or fortune.

A diamond signifies power – the power to be who you truly are. They can also drive away negative energies and protect you.

What do diamond earrings symbolize?

Diamond studs are typically a symbol that the woman who wears them is loved and special to someone.

Diamonds have been believed to improve one's energy, environment, growth process, prosperity, love life, faith and endurance. The stone also attracts abundance, strength, power, courage, fortitude, creativity, imagination, purity, harmony, faithfulness, innocence, increased feelings of self-respect and love, and relationships full of pure love. In fact, diamonds are believed to fill negative spaces in oneself with the purity of love. The stone will help you accomplish your dreams and destiny.

Diamonds promote truth, vision and alignment with the higher mind, for those who use them consciously. They are excellent for clearing the energy field of density and aligning the aura with higher light frequencies. They model transformation and transmutation, encouraging you to develop yourselves from your current state into one filled with the Light of the Divine. Diamonds often carry the energies of angelic beings who are aligned with both courage and Light. They encourage you to bravely express your most sacred self. Use diamonds for contacting angels and devas and for increasing the power of prayer. Diamond enhances clairvoyance.

6C. Various energies present in diamonds and their characteristics

6C 1. Energy of attraction : The inherent Prithvitatva in diamonds creates gravity. This is why, there is energy of attraction in diamonds in a subtle form. This energy affects the mind and intellect of people in contact with a diamond. Hence, people are attracted to diamonds.

Diamonds have been used to cleanse our energies and help us shine and sparkle (literally!) for millennia, derived from the Greek names 'Adamas' meaning 'unbreakable' or 'untamable,' and 'Diaphanus' meaning transparent. Diamonds have been used to help us shine and sparkle (literally!) for millennia, making them a vital part of our emotional and physical wellbeing.

Spiritual Remedy

Diamond crystals are the perfect antidote if you're feeling lost or confused; they help clear your aura of sad thoughts and restore love and light.

Ancient Greeks named the diamond "adamas," meaning "invincible," "indestructible," "proper," and "untamed." Warriors in ancient Greece wore diamonds as the stones were thought to strengthen the warriors' muscles and bring them invincibility. The power, hardness and beauty of the diamond have been prized throughout history in many civilizations. The famous Persian poet Hafiz remarked that, "the rainbow is confined in a diamond forever". In antiquity, a diamond was always thought to be a symbol of innocence and purity. Ancient Greeks thought that diamonds represented the tears of weeping gods. Ancient Romans thought diamonds were considered to be parts of the outer rings of stars, which had fallen to the earth."

1. Spiritual benefits of wearing jewellery embedded with gemstones

Various gemstones such as diamond, ruby, sapphire, coral and emerald are embedded in gold and silver jewellery. The body acquires Tejattva (Radiance) due to these gemstones. The rays coming from the Sun, Moon and other planets are reflected from these gemstones with a favourable effect on the physical body.

As someone who really resonates and respects spirituality and the hidden energies that guide and nurture us, it is wonderful to be working with these miracle stones and harnessing their power. But it is not just me: In the east, they place a diamond in a glass of water and drink it in the morning as a heart tonifier; In meditation, wearing a diamond (especially when placed on the Third Eye) brings mental clarity and for many years a picture of a perfect brilliant diamond was used in meditation practice. In Buddhism the diamond is a symbol of pure insight and in the Diamond Sutra, Buddha teaches us to 'cut through' delusion to find the pure truth. For Hindus, it is believed the diamond's vibrations help heal the body's organs – especially the heart and head.

Wear Diamond Jewelry

In feng shui, we also make adjustments to our personal qi, in addition to the qi of our homes and spaces. Wearing diamonds is a powerful way to work with this stone's energy, and may be a more practical option for many people than displaying diamonds throughout your home.

Diamonds also make long-lasting jewelry because of their hardness, which is one of the reasons they are so popular for engagement rings. They are also energetically protective. If you are feeling drawn to wear diamonds, look for an item of jewelry that you love, and decide how you would like your diamond's energy to support you.

Healing with Diamond

♥ Purity ♥ Harmony ♥ Love ♥ Abundance ♥ Prosperity

A symbol of purity, the Diamond's pure white light helps to bring our lives into a cohesive whole. It brings love and clarity into partnerships, bonding relationships. Diamond is a sign of commitment and fidelity, and instills trust to relationships and situations. It inspires the forces of accumulation, attracting the manifestation of abundance. Diamond is an energy amplifier. It is a stone that never requires recharging. It will bring strength and endurance to all energies and will enhance the power of other crystals. However, beware, as this means it will increase negative energy as well as positive! Excellent for blocking electromagnetic stress and for protection against cell phone emanations. Diamond imparts fearlessness, invincibility and fortitude. It clears emotional and mental pain, reducing fear and bringing about new beginnings. Stimulates creativity, inventiveness, imagination and ingenuity. It brings clarity of mind and aids enlightenment. Diamond allows the soul light to shine out. It aids spiritual evolution and reminds you of your soul's aspirations.

Diamond purifies and detoxifies all of the body's systems, rebalancing the metabolism, and building up stamina, strength and treating allergies and chronic conditions. It also helps glaucoma and clears sight. Diamond effectively treats dizziness and vertigo, and benefits the brain.

In the East, a diamond is used as a heart tonifier. Typically, one that is ill, places a diamond in a glass of water. The glass is left overnight next to their bed and when the morning comes, the water is to be sipped in several steps, to aid the heart. In general, diamonds have been known to prevent cardiovascular disease, leukemia and skeletal problems. They stimulate the glands of the endocrine system, balance metabolism and enhance eyesight. They are also believed to help glaucoma, vertigo, and dizziness, strengthen the immune system and metabolism, and fight against stomach aches. They can also help with memory loss, bad depression, fever, fatigue, skin disease, and nightmares. The stones also help people who are overcome with addictions.

Gold will bring you success, enthusiasm, power, and happiness.

It will fill your life with magic, comfort, kindness, and understanding.

It will also make you more attuned to nature and the people around you!

This mineral will attract all kinds of positive energy and help you project them to the world.

Pure gold is a very vision of purity, strength, and communion. This precious metal helps you to put down your burdens, wash away your worries, and to override any feelings of self-doubt. Natural gold doesn't just bring spiritual and emotional healing, but it also helps the body build itself up. From helping the nervous system to encouraging digestion, a strong respiratory system, and bringing a sense of physical warmth too, gold is all about the glory of purification of body, mind, and spirit.

2. It exudes healing vibes. The 79th element is believed to possess energy that brings warm and soothing vibrations to the body that can aid healing. The theory: Gold's properties relax the body, thereby causing blood vessels to be less constricted. As blood flows more easily, it stimulates the growth of new cells to replace damaged or dead ones.

Throughout time, diamonds have been thought to improve the wearer's life in many ways, specifically by bringing clarity (perhaps related to the clarity of the stone itself) into the wearer's mind and life. This clarity presents clear, positive resolutions to all problems.

Do diamonds have healing powers?

Hindus in the ancient times strongly believed that the vibrations of a diamond render a very positive aura to many organs of the body and brain and heart in particular. Other healing powers of diamonds also include protecting the owner from driving away bad dreams, fight depressions and preventing apoplexy.

Physical Healing

Diamond crystals help to bring together the mind and the body, helping them work together to cleanse and restore your mind, body and soul.

Spiritual Healing

Diamond crystals are the perfect antidote if you are feeling lost or confused, they help cleanse your aura of negative thoughts and bring back the love and light.

But diamonds also hold a deeper spiritual meaning. Diamonds carry angelic energy that helps bring about the courage to inspire their wearer. Not only does it bring courage, but it instills creativity, imagination, and bravery within us to be our most authentic selves.

For those who want to bring the healing light of the crystal Diamond into their life, there are several ways in which you can welcome the stone. The very best way of tapping into the potential of any gemstone is in the form of jewelry. This is because wearing a gemstone bracelet, necklace, earrings, ring, etc allows the jewel to have close contact with your skin.

Having the stone pressed against the skin can help to sync vibrations, remove blockages, and raise you up to beautiful new heights.

Spiritual Meaning Of Diamonds

When you consider the rarity and purity of diamonds (not to mention the billions of years it takes to create one), it's no surprise that they've served as more than just a glistening accessory throughout history. Diamonds have consistently been recognized as love-bearing crystal that is "dependable in their virtues when received as a gift," which is why they are employed in our engagement rings and wedding bands.

Physical Properties and Science of Diamond

As the hardest mineral in existence, a diamond is highly regarded for its beauty and ability to reflect light in an extremely dazzling way. Diamonds display a large amount of brilliance and fire, meaning they sparkle a lot, and always retain a freshly polished look. Created out of pure carbon, the carbon atoms within diamonds are bonded very strongly, which makes for the hardness and strength of the stone. Diamonds are the hardest known substances.

"Carat" refers to the weight of the diamond. "Cut" refers to the brilliance of the stone, as the way it is cut determines how much brilliance a diamond will have. "Clarity" refers to the natural blemishes found inside diamonds (and remember, a flawless diamond is extremely rare). Finally, "color" is the last important factor when choosing a diamond. The highest color ranking for a diamond represents a completely clear and colorless stone.

Physical Rejuvenation

Diamond crystals assist in bringing the mind and body together, allowing them to work together to cleanse and repair the mind, body, and soul. The Diamond's pure white light, a symbol of purity, aids in the unification of our lives. It instills love and clarity in relationships and strengthens bonds. Diamond symbolizes constancy and dedication, and it instills trust in relationships and situations. It energizes the accumulating forces, attracting the manifestation of abundance. Diamond is a powerhouse of energy. It's a stone that never has to be recharged. But always wear good quality and new Diamond for its effects. It helps to cure and fight many

Diamond Healing Powers

A diamond holds within it special healing powers. This gem is said to contain physical, emotional, and chakra-balancing healing powers.

When it comes to physicality, the diamond is known to be a master healer. The diamond can enhance, strengthen and clarify your brain function, nerves and senses.

diamonds also have more profound spiritual importance due to their rarity, purity, and brilliance. Diamonds, which have been used to help open the mind to the new and possible for billions of years and are composed of pure carbon – the foundation of all life in the world around us – have also been used to help open the mind to the new and possible for centuries.

The belief that a diamond's illumination and reflection will stimulate imagination and invention in its wearer, strength, fortitude, and courage is based on the hardness and 'invincibility' of a diamond, which has the potential to drive away negative energy or fortune.

Healing with Gold

Gold symbolises the purity of the spiritual aspect of 'All That Is'. It is symbolic of spirituality and development in the realm of complete understanding, allowing one to both attain and maintain communion with the source of all being.

Gold has been called "the master healer". It is an excellent mineral for purification of the physical body.

Gold helps one to improve one's character via learning, lessening the trauma associated with situations experienced during the gain of knowledge. It assists one to activate, to mobilise, and to actualise the intrinsic potential of the self.

Spiritual Tradition	Gold
Planetary Astrology	Associated with the sun, a masculine, assertive element
Vedic Astrology	Represented by Jupiter Associated with Sagittarius
Western Astrology	Leo
Numerology	Number 2
Elemental	Fire

How to Use Gold:

Wear Gold every day if you want to invite good fortune and success

- Spiritual powers of gold are well known. Many people wear gold for the sake of happiness, love, spiritual peace and luck.
- Gold jewellery prevents its wearer from entering the black energies into the body, heals spiritual values and protects the wearer from negative energy.
- Since several years, gold has been a social status symbol. Moreover, gold also brings peace and happiness.
- Gold opens the crown chakra of an individual and helps him protecting and removing all the evil energies from your body.
- Since primitive times, gold has been considered a symbol of wealth and fortune. Also, it strengthens self-confidence.

Gold will also help relieve your overburden of responsibilities.

It will help combat your feelings of inferiority and depression, which will allow you to understand and eliminate self-reproach.

It will also calm your overexcited or angry emotions. It will develop, cleanse, and balance your ability to amplify your thought forms.

It will help preserve your more enlightened thought forms that you can access at a later time.

Gold will unlock and activate your third eye and crown chakras. It will also help you attract honors, recognition, wealth, and happiness.

Spiritual & Emotional Influence:

Gold brings connection to the universe and its knowledge, natural energies, and wisdom. It symbolizes purity in a spiritual sense and the development of total understanding. It unlocks and activates the third eye and crown chakras.

Gold helps with anger, burdens, depression, ego, emotional stress, negativity, nightmares, tension, and trauma.

The Physical Connection:

Gold is thought to be good for the eyes, hormones, skin, spine, and circulatory, digestive, nervous, and respiratory systems. It is also thought to help with arthritis, autism, blood disorders, coordination, dyslexia, epilepsy, heart disease, hypothermia, vascular disease, paralysis, rheumatism, multiple sclerosis, tissue repair and rejuvenation, vitamin and mineral deficiencies.

TINY RITUALS

A wealth of self, abundance, and energy – these are just a few of the pleasures that golden gemstones bring to the party. Gold comes in many forms – the color of the sun, the coin in your pocket, the cheery flower bowing in the meadow. It's a color of light, luck, and a full and precious life. Gold stones are here to rouse you out of dormancy and to show you the doorway to all the delights.

Whether on the brink of burnout, feeling stretched thin or running on fumes – one of the best ways that gold stones can help is by giving you a boost of energy. These gems are vitamin D for the soul and just like spring light after a long cold winter, the warmth and radiance of gold gems will wake you up. Golden gemstones also help the body to heal. They have a huge positive emphasis on healthy cell turnover, Gold's biocompatibility and conductivity have been recognized for hundreds of years. In New Age tradition, gold is believed to be an energy amplifier. When worn on the body, it is said to be helpful for treating blood, skin, and heart conditions as well as epilepsy, scoliosis, dyslexia, and autism.

Because gold is chemically inert, it is also believed to prevent spiritual corrosion, fatigue, and negativity. If the wearer is mindful to avoid a tendency toward greed, gold serves to relieve tension, anger, and feelings of inferiority.

Gold has been used in the development, purification, and balancing of the heart chakra and for the amplification of thought-forms. The purity of gold is said to help one to preserve higher thought forms for later retrieval.

Gold has also been used to open and to activate the third-eye and crown chakras. It has been said to attract honours, wealth, and happiness; to provide composure, to stabilise the emotional system, to alleviate tension and stress, and to amplify positive feelings. It also assists one in attuning to nature and its healing forces.

Gold brings abundance, mental balance, vitality, and wealth. It helps learning and with the realization of self-potential. It will bring success, happiness, enthusiasm, and power. It will fill your life with comfort, kindness, and magic and make you more attuned to nature and the people around you.

